Here to Listen

Supporting all who work in Horwich

Who we are and what we do

Working in business can at times be very demanding, not just with the pressures of running a successful enterprise, but also with the stresses of personal and family concerns.

Our aim is to provide a confidential listening ear to those who work in Horwich so that they have someone who will come alongside them to share in their joys and challenges.

The chaplaincy service is free and is available to people of all faiths and none, regardless of age, gender, sexuality or race.

Our Chaplains are available....

...to listen

Day-to-day life can be very stressful both at work and at home. Having someone to talk to in confidence can make all the difference. We are an independent, confidential listening ear and we can talk through problems, dilemmas and life choices with you. You may see us as impartial friends seeking to work alongside you to support and encourage you in your daily life.

...to support

During the more difficult times of life such as bereavement, relationship breakdown, illness etc. We can offer support. We are not a counselling service but, where agreed, can signpost people to professional bodies.

...to celebrate

We join with the people of Horwich to celebrate the many and varied activities which take place in our town throughout the year.

Partnership

The Horwich Angels Chaplaincy Team operates under the banner of the 'Greater Manchester Industrial Mission' GMIM charity no.1091274, in partnership with 'Churches Together in Horwich and Rivington' and is supported by all main church denominations. The Horwich chaplaincy also works closely with the Middlebrook Angel Chaplaincy team.

Training and support is provided by GMIM which is part of a network that visits many workplaces and town centres across the country.

Horwich Angels is a multifaith chaplaincy which seeks to encourage understanding and respect between people of all faiths and none.
